Hello, thank you for your interest in franchising with Daisy First Aid.

Jenni Dunman is a former police officer, our founder and CEO. After saving her best friend's baby from choking in 2012, Jenni has grown Daisy First Aid from a small start-up when her 3 children were babies into a national multi award winning franchise that is accredited by the British Franchise Association.

Jenni is a paediatric first aid expert and is regularly featured in newspapers, magazines and on TV. Daisy First Aid is loved by families all over the UK and has a huge celebrity following including royalty.

Welcome... who, what and why!

Jenni says “We train thousands of parents every year and when you get that call to say a parent saved their child's life thanks to our class, that is the most unbelievably emotional feeling. We are all so passionate about the importance of first aid and absolutely love what we do.”

What do we do?

We provide fun and easy to learn paediatric first aid classes to families, schools, childcare professionals and activity providers in a fear-free and relaxed way.

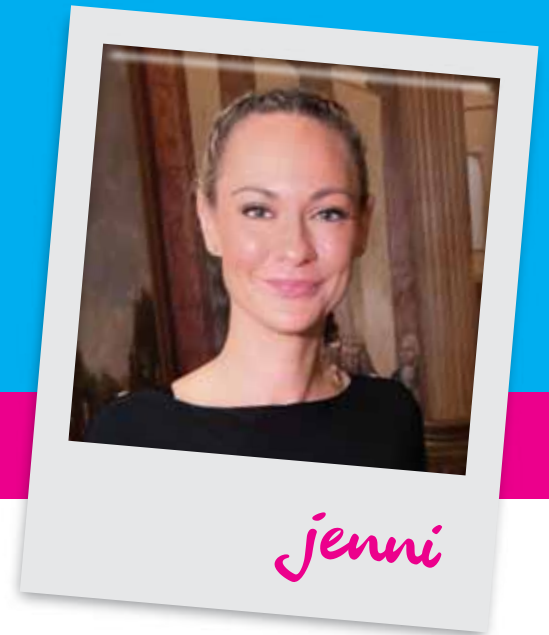

Why we do it?

As parents ourselves we know just how precious babies and children are to those who love them.

If a baby or child becomes seriously ill, the first few minutes could be critical, but with our fabulous Daisy training, lives can and have been saved.

We think children should be allowed to run, dance, climb and have fun... but occasionally accidents happen. It is vitally important that parents know what to do in those precious few moments whilst waiting for emergency services.

- We have a different approach to other first aid companies
- We only have happy, smiling, positive people in our team
- Our classes and staff are multi award winning
- We are loved by celebrities and parent influencers
- We are a well established and reputable brand with long term franchisees
- We are flexible and affordable
- Our unique classes are specially designed not to frighten but to give knowledge and confidence when dealing with an emergency

Becoming a Daisy trainer

To become a Daisy first aid trainer you don't need to have previous first aid or training experience as we can provide you with those skills.

What is really important is that you have a warm, happy and friendly personality and you love meeting and talking to new people and of course love babies and children.

No previous experience required!

“I had previously attended one of the Daisy parent classes for my own two children and thought it was brilliant. I felt so strongly that every parent needed to learn these life saving skills that I joined the team shortly after. I now work my classes around my children so I no longer need to pay for childcare, get quality family time plus I do a job that I absolutely love. The rest of the DFA team are all really supportive, I've been taught so much about running my own business.” Helen, Daisy First Aid franchisee, Sutton.

All of our trainers are given an exclusive territory in which to run their Daisy First Aid classes. This allows them to really grow and establish their Daisy reputation with the families, schools and childcare providers in the area.

Luckily there is always a constant supply of new babies being born so we are never without potential customers.

All our trainers have complete flexibility to book in classes so that they fit around their own busy lives and those of their customers. It's a perfect business for those with family commitments.

Weekday classes are popular with parents and carers on leave and for our school lessons. Weekend and evening classes are popular with parents, partners, grandparents, family and groups of friends.

The family first aid class is suitable for grown-ups of any age.

Babies, bumps and breastfeeding are all very welcome!

Helen

A Daisy Franchise business

Previous first aid or teaching experience is great however it is more important that we find people who will bring fun and vibrancy to our classes.

We will provide you with all the training and qualifications you need to deliver classes to parents, carers and activity providers with the option to enhance your skills and train childcare professionals and schools.

Visit: daisyfirstaid.com/franchise for dates and information.

Supported and equipped...

“I have been running Daisy First Aid Christchurch since 2014, teaching classes throughout my pregnancy and returned to running classes when my baby was 8 weeks old. I absolutely love my job and have met some lovely people whilst running the classes, some of who I now call my friends. I feel that I am passing on a vital skill that gives parents peace of mind.” Kerry, Daisy First Aid, Bournemouth.

Franchise Training

The initial franchise training is a 3 day course of home learning, live online sessions and 2 days of face to face lessons at our London office. We ensure you achieve the required qualifications to deliver your paediatric first aid classes to parents and carers.

Due to covid-19 our class can now be delivered both online and face to face.

Online, or face-to-face...

“I now have the work-life balance that is so precious and I get to work with a fab team! I love being able to teach parents, in a non-scary, baby-friendly and relaxed way, to provide essential skills and give them that all important confidence should anything happen to their little ones – not many can offer that, especially to new parents!”

Caroline, Daisy First Aid, SW London.

Our franchise manager will also show you how to launch, market and grow your business so that it fits around your own life! Training doesn't stop there, we run regular mastermind and training sessions across a huge variety of business and wellness topics. You will also benefit from the support and experience of the other franchisees.

Franchisees also have the option to enhance their Daisy First Aid business and increase revenue by providing longer platinum assessed courses to those requiring OfSTED compliant courses. These additional qualifications can be completed once the franchisee is confident in their class delivery and feedback shows they are shining!

We are BFA accredited.

We are very proud to be accredited by the British Franchise Association. You can be confident that we are a viable, franchisable, ethical and appropriately disclosed business that successfully supports our network of franchisees.

Rewarding...

“I joined the Daisy family just over 3 years ago after being turned down for flexible working following the birth of my first baby. Becoming a Daisy has given me the flexibility to be able to work around my two small children and built a business that has been so rewarding. I can honestly say running my classes has never felt like work.” Chloe, Daisy First Aid, Southend.

Friendship and peer to peer support.

We're just a big happy group of friends working hard, helping each other and our customers.

Small investment = great return...

“I discovered my love for medical training in the aviation industry where I taught pilots and cabin crew. After starting a family I became a freelancer for Daisy First Aid. I loved the company and what it stood for and how it enabled me to work around my family. I couldn't believe my luck when the opportunity arose to become the owner of the Chelmsford territory. I absolutely love my job, Every day is different. I meet amazing people, get to share my knowledge and strike a perfect balance between work and family life. I love that I have the freedom to run my company however I like but have the support of head office whenever needed. For me this is the perfect combination.” Angela, Daisy First Aid, Chelmsford.

Monthly management fees are just £100 per month. (This is equivalent to just one small class a month) or 10% of monthly earnings, whichever is greater.

This fee includes continual personal development training, DFA support membership, website and email management and central advertising and head office support.

Although our trainers run their own Daisy businesses, we are very much a team and group of friends who support each other. Our forum is open to all questions whether it be about business, marketing, first aid or anything else.

We even have an #askdaisy group where Daisies can discuss life stuff and ask for advice in confidence.

Additional costs will be public liability and indemnity insurance which can be obtained easily online. The cost will vary depending on the insurance company and area of the country but usually around £12-18 per month combined.

Earning potential

As a Daisy First Aid Franchisee you will be able to choose when to work and arrange your bookings around your family life... and earn a minimum of £50 per hour!

Grow a successful Daisy business...

*“ This is the most rewarding job that I’ve been in and I love it!
Come on, teaching people how to saves lives? How can that not make you smile and make you feel like you’ve done good today! ”*

Gigi, Daisy First Aid Chelsea, St Johns Wood and The City.

The recommended price for a 2 hour class is £25 per person with a minimum of 4 people attending a class. Home classes mean no venue fees for you although you have the option to use local venues too if you wish.

Classes are between 4 people and a maximum of 20 attending so a standard 2 hour class will earn you between £100 and £500. Running 4 classes per week could bring in earnings of between £400 and £2000.

Level 3 qualifications for childcare professionals have a recommended price of £100 per person. You can train a class of up to 12 candidates at a time with an earning potential of £1200. DoF compliant one hour classes for school students have a recommended price of £100 per class. Both primary and secondary schools are required to have every child trained in basic first aid.

Our proven marketing training lessons will give you all the knowledge and tools to help you grow a successful Daisy business.

Our very popular Daisy First Aid Kits, Books and Magnets are available for your customers to purchase increasing your earning potential even further.

In order to be transparent it's important to note that all our franchisee's have different work schedules based on their own lifestyles therefore there is no guarantee that you will achieve the same results, nor is it intended that you should rely on them as a warranty or guarantee of what you will achieve. We will help you set realistic goals depending on if you are part time, full time and what courses you choose to deliver.

"I'm so lucky to be able to run a flexible business meeting so many amazing people and being rewarded with knowing I'm giving them the knowledge and confidence. I'm so blessed with my family business and Daisy colleagues." Sarah, Daisy First Aid, Brighton.

"Daisy First Aid is a fantastic franchise to be a part of. Not only are you able to run worthwhile courses for lovely customers. You have the backing of a wide network of people. The franchisors have been an amazing support over a very difficult covid period offering practical advice and development opportunities. Alongside their support there is an amazing network of other franchise owners who work together to create a brilliant business base to build your business."

Sulina, Daisy First Aid, Corby.

"I love the fact that here at Daisy First Aid we empower people with confidence and knowledge should they ever be faced with a first aid situation. Our classes are fun and friendly and I love getting to meet all the babies that attend! The feeling you get when parents tell you that they really enjoyed your class is so rewarding. I have never run a business before but there is so much help and support available. The amount of interaction with other Daisies is great as it's really helpful bouncing ideas off one another or just looking for an answer to a question. I am so glad I am part of this fabulous company."

Nicola, Daisy First Aid, Cornwall.

"I have been running my franchise for 4 years now and I absolutely love my little business. We get so much support from HQ who invest time and effort into helping us maximise the potential of our businesses and it's so rewarding teaching something that could save a life."

Farah, Daisy First Aid, Walthamstow ad Haringey.

"We couldn't ask for a more friendly and supportive group of franchisee's with a CEO who is always striving to help us grow our business."

Katy, Daisy First Aid, Kensington.
